INHALATION FOR THE
Cure of Consumption
Dr. Ira Warren's New Remedy.

THE most astounding cures of Lung Diseases have been effected by the use of Dr Warren's

Inhaling Balm.

A vaporized preparation, for inhaling, directly into the lungs where the local disease is. The BALM is presented with the fullest confidence that it is the best medicinal agent ever employed for the cure of Consumption and Asthma. Many certificates of those who have been cured, or materially benefited by this medicine, may be seen in the hands of agents. It has accomplished the most wonderful cures in the city of Boston and vicinity and is producing an impression on diseases of the lungs never before witnessed by the medical profession.

It has restored to health those upon whom disease had made rapid and fearful advances, and where other remedies had proved unavailing. Being vaporized and inhaled, at enters every air cell, and every particle of the lungs. Its action is mild and agreeable, while its salutary effects are truly wonderful. The Vapor Inhaler is made of silver and glass and is admirably adapted to its purpose.

We invite the closest inspection and scrutiny of physicians, confident that our preparations will meet with universal approval.

Pulmonic Cherry Cordial.

Supports the stomach and improves digestion, and fulfils the end of a philosophical treatment of Consumption better than any other article. It is admirably calculated to relieve that constricted state of the chest, which so often met with in lung diseases, and is highly efficacious in relieving coughs of long standing. It is a safe remedy in any stage of Phthisis. Used in connection with the Inhaling Balm, the compound of Cod Liver Oil, as prepared from Dr Warren's recipes, it will be found to have curative powers far superior to any other article before the public.

Price $6 a package Any person enclosing $5 to BURR & PERRY, No 1 Cornhill, Boston will receive a package containing a bottle of Pulmonic Cherry Cordial, one of Inhaling Balm and the Medical Vapor Inhaler in a neat box by Express, free to any part of the United States or British Provinces.

S. WARREN & AYER, proprietors; For sale wholesale and retail, by BURR & PERRY, General Agents, No. 1, Cornhill, Boston, G F Sargent & Co., Bangor, and for sale by all druggists.

Dr. Ira Warren's Compound of Pure Cod Liver Oil, Lime & Sugar of Milk.

The great value of Cod Liver Oil as a medicine in Consumption is now generally admitted. It corrects a bad assimilation, the primal defect in this disease, by imparting the growth of cells—the ultimate results, according to Dr Burnett, from the union of a minute particle of oil with albumen, undergoing the quickening force of vitality. The Phosphate of lime has been proved to promote the same great end, throughout both the vegetable and the animal world.

The Sugar of Milk, manufactured solely from the whey of Goat's milk, being a supporter of respiration in weak lungs, and having a powerful affinity for oxygen, greatly aids the above remedies in consumption, and when properly combined with them makes an elegant preparation, removing much of the offensiveness and smell of the oil, and supplying a saccharine constituent to the lungs, much like the deficiency in a healthy breath.

In conducting a large special practice in Throat and Lung diseases, Dr Warren resorts directly to this fountain for pure fluid. The excellence of this combination will be at once appreciated by the medical profession, and a trial of it will commend it to the people generally.

THE GREAT American Discovery
—IS—
Dr. Barbers Diapent.

THIS valuable Medicine is compounded principally of Herbs by whose stimulating and penetrating properties it when applied, immediately diffused through the whole system, allaying the most intense pain in a few minutes. You have only to try it when you will be convinced that no preparation ever offered to the public, for the relief of the afflicted possesses in so high a degree its perfect adaptive qualities. Its action in all cases is prompt, powerful, and effectual, without in the least endangering the system.

It penetrates the flesh to the bone, relaxes the contracted muscular powers, restoring free use to the joints and limbs which have been rendered by years of affliction almost entirely useless.

In short for suffering is the greatest blessing of the age and no one would ever allow himself to be without this sovereign balm after he had once witnessed its magic influence over disease and its potency in relieving pain, however severe. The perfect consciousness of its unquestionable efficacy, by actual experiment makes me bold in asserting its transcendent virtues. By referring to the numerous certificates in the hands of agents (which were given voluntarily and cheerfully) forming a sense of gratitude and justice by persons of the first respectability, (and their statements admit of no doubt) you will find it has no equal. The whole world is ready, certain, and lasting cure of Rheumatism. It will also cure Neuralgia Pains in the Side and Back Cramp, Swellings, numbness Weakness of Joints, Spine, &c. Also, Dyspepsia, and all Nervous Diseases proceeding from the Stomach. Also, Dr. Barber's Diapent is a sure remedy for Corns, Bunions, &c. &c. Sold by Dyott & Sons A. SINGER'S SEWING MACHINES!

THESE machines have long sustained the highest reputation in the United States. THE FIRST PRIZE—A GOLD MEDAL—has recently been awarded to them at the great Exposition at the Palace of Industry in Paris, and thus they rank at the head of the world of superiority.

Great improvements have just been added, so that they run without noise, with ease to the operator at double the ordinary speed, so that in a day. The greatest clothing and shoe manufacturing establishments in the country use them to the exclusive. They are competent to perform every sort of work in the most perfect style.

As there are very great numbers of inferior or entirely worthless sewing machines of the Lerow & Blodgett, Avery, Wilson, Grover & Baker, and other patents, which have been sold, but cannot be used to any advantage we hereby offer to the trade all such machines, and also unimproved ones of our own manufacture, in exchange for new and latest improved machines on liberal terms. All old machines taken obtained by us will be bought up and destroyed. For particulars apply by letter or personally at our New York Office.

Active Agents wanted to make sales of our improved Sewing Machines To persons properly qualified for the business a rare opportunity for profitable and pleasant employment is offered.

A MARVELLOUS REMEDY
For a Marvellous Age!!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT!!
The Grand External Remedy.

By the aid of a microscope we see millions of little openings on the surface of our bodies—Although these are invisible to the naked eye, this Ointment, when rubbed on the skin is carried to any organ or inward part Diseases of the Kidneys, Disorders of the Liver, affections of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs Asthma, Coughs and Colds, are by its means effectually cured Every housewife knows that salt passes through a bone or piece of any thickness—This Ointment far more readily penetrates through any body which is part of living body curing the most deep seated complaints, that cannot be reached by other means.

Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, and Scorbutic Humors.

No remedy has ever been able to touch for the cure of diseases of the skin whatever form they may assume, as this Ointment. No case of Salt Rheum, Scurvy, Sore Head Scrofula or Erysipelas, can long withstand its influence The inventor has travelled over many parts of the globe, visiting the principal hospitals, dispensing this Ointment, and in no instance has to his application, and in this has been the means of restoring countless numbers to health.

Sore Legs, Sore Breasts, Wounds and Ulcers.

Some of the most scientific surgeons now rely solely on the use of this wonderful Ointment, when having to dress with the worst cases of bores wounds ulcers, glandular swellings, and tumors Professor Holloway has, by command of the Allied Governments, despatched to the hospitals of the East, large shipments of this Ointment, to be used under the direction of the Medical Staff in the worst cases of wounds. It will cure any ulcer, glandular swelling, tumor, or contraction of the joints, even of 20 years standing.

Piles and Fistulas.

These and other similar distressing complaints can be effectually cured if the Ointment be well rubbed in over the parts affected, and by otherwise following the printed directions around each pot.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases

Bunions,	Fistulas,	Piles,	Sprains
Bad Breasts,	Glandular Swellings,	Rheumatism,	Stiff Joints
Chapped Hands	Gout,	Ringworms,	Sore Throats
Chilblains	Lumbago,	Scalds,	Skin Diseases,
Corns,	Sore Legs,	Sore Heads,	Ulcers,
Coco Bay,	Scurvy,	Tumors of all kinds	Wounds of all kinds
Elephantiasis,	Stone and Gravel,	Worms of all kinds,

Sold at the Manufactories of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York and 244 Strand) London, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers of Medicines throughout the United States, and the civilized world, in Pots, at 25 cts, 62½ cents, and $1 each.

There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes

N B Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each Pot.

BOUNTY LANDS.
IMPORTNT NOTICE TO SOLDIERS, SEAMEN,
AND THEIR
Widows and Minor Children.

A BILL has passed both Houses of Congress, granting Bounty Lands to the following classes of persons, viz:

One hundred and sixty acres to all who have served FOURTEEN DAYS IN ANY WAR of the United States, provided they have honorably served and have received 40 acres.

One hundred and twenty acres to all who have served and have received 80 acres.

Eighty acres to all who have so served and have received 120 acres

And if the soldier has deceased without obtaining 160 acres, the same allowance as above is made to his Widow, or if no Widow, to his Minor Children.

Service in the Revolution—in the War of 1812—and in all the Indian Wars, is provided for by said Act.

And all who served the above period in the Organized Militia of the State of Maine in the year 1839, in what is known as the

AROOSTOOK WAR,
Are entitled to its benefits. Also the Militia called out by State Authority, and who served the above period, or whose services have been paid for by the United States and their Widows and Minor Children

The subscriber is prepared to receive and prosecute all claims arising under said Act, with promptness and despatch, and upon as reasonable terms as other Agents.

He has many Military Rolls and Copies of the same in possession, and especially very full ones of the Militia drafted for the Aroostook service in 1839 and is therefore peculiarly well qualified to counsel claims to his charge, be returned to rely upon his long and well known experience and success in those of a similar nature.

Be will, if preferred, Purchase the Land Warrants at fair rates

Application may be made to him at his Office, or if requested by letter, he will send to claimants Declarations, with suitable directions, which may be executed without the parties leaving their homes

This Day Published!
EDITH,
The Quaker's Daughter.
A TALE OF PURITAN TIMES.
BY ONE OF HER DESCENDANTS.

12 mo. cloth. Price $1.25.

A most charming tale has rarely made its appearance in any country The scene is laid in Boston, at the time of the religious persecution of the Quakers by the Puritans, and the circumstance adds very great interest to a tale which does not require any such fictitious aid, but whose romantic qualities are sufficient to fasten the readers attention, and deeply excite his sympathies, as well as endow an admirable moral lesson.

We add a paragraph from the book itself

"The world is aware that the early history of the Quakers in New England fills a page in her records which the descendants of our Puritan ancestors would gladly see torn forever from the eyes of men. The time of these occurrences is upon record, for justice to either party to be rendered. The consciousness of a cruel indifference on the one hand, and the remembrance of wrong on the other, are yet too fresh in the minds of their descendants, for years must pass away, before either can regard the other with impartiality. But our historians and others should remember that the blot is only made deeper through attempts to excuse those deeds of cruelty by false representations of their victims, and it becomes the duty of every faithful representative of those times to depict their characters with fairness, and to do justice to the motives that influenced their conduct.

"We trust that the time is not far distant when the spirit that still characterizes New England men, especially her clergy, will give place to a more enlightened feeling of Christian brotherhood. Let it be remembered that the time was, when the Quakers stood alone against odds that are now cried down by the majority, and if their peculiarities are fast disappearing from our sight, their principles remain."

(From the present Commissioner)

"AUGUST 17 1855—During the time I have held the office of U S Patent Solicitor R H EDDY Esq of Boston has had more business before the Office than any other person of his profession, and has always conducted it with honor to himself and satisfaction to his clients. I have no hesitation in saying that in my opinion no person is more competent and trustworthy, and can more speedily and surely procure patents for inventors than he can. I have no hesitation in recommending him to all who may desire to obtain patents as early and fair as possible."

Their stock is good and they intend to keep it so. Their carriages are new and of the best style and they intend to keep them so. Their horses are kind and gentle and will be found to be of the best quality. Their stable is large and convenient and they have room for a number of horses over and above their own stock. Their place is convenient to the depot, and to the steamboat landing, and they intend to accommodate all who may favor them with their patronage. Their prices are reasonable and they intend to be as careful with horses and carriages as their own, and they hope by strict attention to business to merit a share of the public patronage which they solicit.

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTION—CITIZENS' CAUCUSES. A call for a citizens' caucus, to nominate Municipal officers, will be found in another column. We understand that there is another call of those citizens in favor of Freedom, and opposed to the present State and National Administrations, in circulation for signatures—the meeting to be holden next week.

WAR WITH ENGLAND.—Upon the question of the probability of war between the United States and England, the editor of the Providence Journal, a man of close observation and sound judgment, remarks that the people of both countries are too sensible and practical to go to war about a matter of so little importance to either, as the questions at issue. Hostility to England, (he says) has long been one of the chief items of Democratic political capital, and in making a moderate investment in it Mr. Buchanan has perhaps only committed a very natural mistake. The stock is below par at present. Mr. Seward and the Free Soilers have given it a hard blow by coming up to its support. The President does not want war with England; he only wants to talk about it. He is completely Southern in his policy, and the South has no inclination for a war with England. It would have a bad effect on slavery immediately, in the invasion of the coast, and prospectively in the possible annexation of territory, which would need no Wilmot proviso to protect it from that institution.

Gen. Pierce therefore wishes to bluster about England, but when it comes to fighting, he prefers to attack Greytown, or, still better, to make war upon the unoffending people of Kansas. His attitude towards England has been, "hold me or I shall it like." Mr. Seward replies, "strike away," and the Republicans and Free Soilers echo, "strike away, we will back you." This is the last backing that he wants, he has no idea of starting for ward till he is certain of the fasteniogs that restrain him headlong but cautious valor. The tone of the Washington organ, as well as of the Southern papers, has decidedly altered since the debate in the Senate, has shown that if the administration talks war, it will have to make war or to back out,—that the opposition are not going to take the odium of holding it back, and leave to Gen. Pierce all the glory of fighting England without the danger."

In case of actual war with England, of which we still think there is no danger, the United States would prove a full match for her antagonist, notwithstanding the vapouring and braggadocio of the London Times. The nation is already equal to England in population—her commercial marine, which a large portion is capable of being turned to war purposes, is now superior to that of England, and in all the material resources of war our country is far in advance. Half a million of troops could be enlisted in the United States in three months, for a war with England, while Great Britain could not enlist one tenth of that number in the whole island, as is shown by the abortive attempts during the present war. Her military power is quite exhausted. She is formidable alone from her navy, which might at first inflict a good deal of injury on our coasts, and perhaps make a successful landing at the South—but against which we could soon be in a condition to defend ourselves.

The general opinion is however, that we shall have no war. The New York Commercial Advertiser is "exceedingly gratified to be able to state on the authority of a gentleman who came passenger in the Asia, and who saw Mr. Buchanan on the very eve of his departure, that that gentleman assured him that all points of difficulty between the United States and Great Britain were in a fair way of adjustment, and would be adjusted in a very few days. This statement, however, is probably more true to its full extent

APPRENTICES' SCHOOL.—We learn that the examination of the First Apprentices' School, under the charge of Mr. Snow, which took place yesterday afternoon, gave great satisfaction to the Committee and to the numerous visitors present on the occasion. A large and elegant volume of Shakespeare's works and a copy of Webster's large Dictionary, were presented to the teacher by the members of the school.—A very neat presentation address was delivered by Master Beale, and responded to very appropriately by the teacher, in which he bore strong testimony to the earnest zeal and uniform kindly demeanor of the scholars, both towards him and each other.

The compositions of the members of the school were gathered into a beautifully written paper,—"The Apprentices' Advocate"—and were read, giving high satisfaction and evincing much literary talent.

Several addresses were made to the School, and were listened to with marked attention.

The new steam frigate Niagara, which was launched at Brooklyn, on the 22d, cost the government $1,600,000. She is the third of the six steam frigates authorised to be built, by the last Congress—the Roanoke and the Merrimack having previously been launched, the former at Norfolk and the latter at Charlestown.

The Niagara is 345 feet in length, and 55 in width. Her armament consists of twelve enormous sweet guns, carrying 170lb. shot. She is a propeller—her engines weighing over 400 tons.

James Gilligan, who was stabbed on Wednesday evening by another Irishman named Richard Nally, was still alive last evening, but it was supposed he could survive but a short time. The examination of the prisoner is postponed for a day or two, to await the event.

Oysters were five dollars per gallon in Boston, during the recent embargo laid upon the regular vessels by the cold weather.

Dr. Edward H. Keloff came out of the State prison at Auburn on the 15th, where he had served ten years for the abduction of his wife in Tompkins county, N. Y., and was immediately arrested upon a bench warrant for the murder of his wife and child, a crime of which he was suspected ten years ago, and of which it is now thought evidence has been found, to convict him. It is said that during his imprisonment a large fortune has fallen to him in Europe.

MEXICO.—A correspondent, writes us that a pedlar named Walker McFarland, called one day, at a certain house in Steuben, obtained a pint of rum, and started to return some distance to a place where he had left his pack. He was last seen toddling in the road, intoxicated, and then got up and move on again. He had been missing a week, when the letter was written, and there was little doubt had perished in the woods—a victim to the bottle.

TERRIBLE WEATHER IN IOWA. A correspondent at Cherryfield, has a letter from Richland, Iowa, written a few weeks ago, which states that a father and boy were frozen to death near that place, while attempting to cross a prairie, and that the writer had heard of fourteen others, who perished on the same night, at different points near that place.

THE PRIZE DECLAMATIONS.—Persons interested in our public schools, who may have been omitted in the distribution of tickets for the Prize Declamation at the City Hall this evening, will be supplied by calling at the Book store of Mr. Patch.

The citizens of Portland have voted to confirm the recent appropriation by the city government of $60,000 for wharf accommodations for the new mammoth steamer, by a vote of 1416 to 117.

QUICK TRIP. The ship Dreadnaught, from New York, for Liverpool, Jan 24th, made the trip in fifteen days. Strong westerly winds prevailed during the passage.

A monster snow-plow has been constructed at the machine shops of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, at Aubron, Ill. It is 30 feet long, 12 feet broad, 15 feet high, weighs over 28 tons, and cost from $1,800 to $2,000.

A PROFITABLE VOYAGE. The whaleship Lagwing, of New Bedford, arrived at Newport recently, from her first cruise of thirty months, has taken 2100 bbls of sperm oil, 675 bbls whale, and 35,000 pounds whalebone—worth, at present prices, about $135,000.

In Philadelphia there is an establishment for the manufacture of paper bags, for druggists, bakers, confectioners, and other dealers, with machinery driven by steam. It produces 60,000 bags per day, and consumes a ton and a half of paper each week.

The Louisville, Ky. Courier estimates that the recent cold weather has ruined half a million of dollars worth of potatoes in that city alone.

THE SOUND NAVIGATION. Long Island Sound is again nearly clear of ice. The steamers were to resume their trips yesterday.

The Mercury states that Rev. Mr. Maltby of this city, has received a call to the pastorate of a flourishing Society in Montreal.

CHILDREN LOVE THEM. Children suffering with the croup or whooping cough will readily take Dewise's Compound Pitch Lozenge when they have refused all other remedies. They are sure to effect a cure, and are sold by all druggists at 25 cents a box.

PRESENT OF THE WESTERN RIVERS—SEVERAL STEAMBOATS SUNK.—Cincinnati, Feb. 25.—The Licking river, opposite this river opposite this city commenced rising rapidly yesterday morning, throwing immense quantities of ice in the Ohio, breaking up the ice in the latter, and doing great damage. The steamboats Flag, Albertine, Bridge City, Grapeshot, Madonna, Sabine, Black Diamond and Youktown were all sunk, and will prove a total loss. It is also reported that the steamers Wisconsin and Forest Queen are low below Mill Creek. Several other steamboats were more or less injured, and a number of flat boats and barges sunk. The total loss this far ascertained is upward of $200,000. Ohio River has risen about eight feet within the last twelve hours, and is still rising.

"Home, Sweet Home."

BY T. H. BAKER.

What is this world without a home?
But one vast work-shop,
Where we must toil and labor on
Till Death bids us stop,
And gently rest?

Home! There is magic in the sound
Of wondrous power!
For there alone that love is found
Which lasts for ever,
And is the best.

Home—sweet Home! Tearful bidden spring,
When I think on thee,
Where'er I roam, may my blessing
Gently rest on me,
Thy absent child.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.

SUPREME COURT.—The case in which the constitutionality of the Missouri Restriction is involved has been but partially considered in consequence of the absence of the judges at the adjournment. It no event will the question be debated until April. Contrary to general expectation there is now some ground to hope that a portion of the Southern wing of this tribunal will recede from the position they assumed, and perhaps go so far as to admit the right to freedom in the colored plaintiff. The Courts of Kentucky, Louisiana, Tennessee, Virginia, and other Southern States, always heretofore held the doctrine laid down by Judge Marshall on the dissenting opinion which he gave when this same plaintiff (Dred Scott) was then in the service of his former owner (Dr. Emerson) for free. Had his former owner taken this slave to Kentucky, that "the master who takes his slave to reside in a State or Territory where slavery is prohibited, thereby emancipates his slave," the weight of authority is overwhelming, and the books are filled with decisions, covering even stronger cases than that now under consideration. It is only surprising how Southern judges can hesitate, when the question has been so uniform and the law is so clear.

A STRANGE OCCURRENCE. A few days since in conversation with Capt. Alexander Scott, one of the pioneers in the steamboat business of the West, he gave us the following facts, which illustrate the adage that "truth is stranger than fiction." In November, 1827, he was descending the Mississippi in command of the steamer America, laden with a valuable cargo of tobacco, lead and furs, the latter article alone worth $80,000. When near Plumb Point the steamer struck a snag and sank in deep water. The furs were for most part recovered, but the tobacco, with the rest of her cargo, was abandoned as a total loss. Years passed, and the remembrance of the America's fate had faded from the recollection of all, except, perhaps the present individual, "the oldest inhabitant." It is well known that the current of the Mississippi frequently changes, so that what was once the channel of that turbid stream afterwards became terra firma, susceptible of cultivation. This was the case with the site of the America's wreck. The channel near Plumb Point became an island, on which, for eight years, luxuriant crops of Indian corn were raised; but recently the westward current of the Father of Waters took another turn, and commenced washing away the earthy formation, until the America was again exposed to the light of day. The lead in her hull it is supposed, will be all recovered in good condition; the tobacco, it is fair to presume, will be slightly the worse for wear. She was sunk on the 17th of November, 1827, and consequently was imbedded for twenty-eight years.—Pittsburg Post.

THE 29TH OF FEBRUARY. This is the quadrennial 29th day of more persons than is generally supposed. The Boston Advertiser says:

We understand that several persons in this vicinity, who were born on the 29th of February, propose to celebrate that day, this year. As this anniversary, if we may be allowed a Hibernicism, occurs only once in four years, it would be curious to ascertain how many persons could be collected whose birthdays occurred on that odd day. We know a gentleman in this city who was born on the 29th of February, and has a daughter born on that day. Another gentleman and his grandson were born on that day.

LOSS OF A BOSTON SHIP, WITH TWENTY LIVES.—A despatch states that the ship Grey Duke, of Boston, Capt. Sampson, from New Orleans for Liverpool, wrecked Feb. 6, and that Capt. Sampson and twenty-nine men were drowned. The Grand Duke was built at New Orleans in 1853, by Mr. John Taylor, at Chelsea, and is owned by Mr. Wm. Bramhall, of Boston.

The Grand Duke was insured in Boston as follows for $117,000, viz.: on ship $85,000, on freight $32,000.

IMPORTANT FROM KANSAS. Advices from Lawrence, Kansas, under date of 15th, say the Kickapoo Rangers again threaten hostilities at Easton, having avowed a determination to avenge the death of Cook, by killing the friends of the murdered Brown. The Free State men are preparing for the conflict;—ten mounted companies had already left Lawrence for Easton, under the command of Col. Dickey and Major Grover. A fight will probably take place. A despatch from Washington says: The Committee on Territories will report a bill at once, annulling certain laws passed by the Kansas Legislature.

While the steamer Fersley at her dock at Jersey City 18,672 persons visited her, paying for the privilege $1,709. Of this sum $900 was given to the poor of Jersey City, $500 to the Society for the Relief of Destitute Children of Seamen, and $709 to the permanent fund for the Jersey City House of Industry.

The lawyers, by setting up the pins of insanity, saved Fyfe, who murdered his wife in the interior of New York, from the gallows—and when they one him for the $4000, which he agreed to pay them, he rushes, and pleads insanity.

Defense of Kansas.

BY HENRY WARD BEECHER.

[Concluded.]

The Slave State men came without books, without enough education to read if they had them, without schools or a wish for them. They came with statutes framed for making free thought a sin, free speech a penitentiary offence, a free press punishable with death if it in the least loosens the bonds of oppression.

The men of the North come with rare industry; with mechanic arts, with all improved implements of husbandry. They build towns; they found cities; they convert a wilderness to a garden, and will transmit to coming generations an inheritance such as Old England and such as New England never saw.

The men of the South, reared where labor was a disgrace, and without mechanic arts, without habits of industry, without organizing tendencies, without the creative force which build up new societies. They come to curse the land with a system of husbandry which the earth detests, as well it may, for the foot of the slave burns the soil like fire. It is the agriculture of exhaustion. It is the husbandry of impoverishment. If the South inoculates the State with her leprosy, the plains of Kansas are fairer and richer to-day as a wilderness than they ever will be again. For slavery robs first the slave and then the soil. It sucks the blood from everything it touches. And nothing can fatten upon it, except the cunning few that sit upon the middle of the web—over-swoln spiders—while the vast swing in the edges thereof, mere skeleton insects.

The men of the North come upon the best, and the men of the South upon the worst errand that ever engaged men. Peace, and light, and love, and joy go with the one—war, and blood, and cruelty, wasting and despair, go with the other.

The representatives of civilization have come lawfully, peacefully, to become actual settlers. The representatives of barbarism have come unlawfully, violently, with no intent of residence, but only to put the sword to the throat of freemen, and the brand to their dwellings, and then to leave to the slow immigration of slavery this stained victory.

There was never so strong an appeal to public sympathy as that which is presented in the case of Kansas' free settlers. Their emigration was a mission of mercy, full of the richest fruits of Christianity. Their conduct has been noble. They have borne hardships without faltering; they have borne outrage and persecution with patience, returning good for evil. They have suffered wrong manifold and infinitely provoking without retaliation. When aggression on one occasion was pushed so sorely that their patience failed, some of the men said, "We cannot bear such wrong." The reply made by Pomeroy will become a maxim of Christian men. "Be patient! your wrongs are your very strength!"

When the armed day came, and their adversaries came out to consume them, then, and only then, they took up arms, and surrounded their home with living men determined not to attack, but never to surrender.

They stood on free soil. They felt free hearts beating in their bosoms. But no flag of their country waved over their heads. An army of the United States, made up mostly of aliens, carried the flag of their country over to the side of their persecutors. Yet, deserted, betrayed, and wronged beyond the measure of any but heroic patience they nobly redeemed their lives, and, without one drop of blood spilt, scattered their foes. Shall the prayers, the help, the sympathy of the free men of the North be withheld, while the bugle is sounding through the South, and men are gathering, and weeks only are left between this day, and that on which battle shall once more unfold its wings—not again to be closed until the earth has drank blood to its fill?

But if, with prompt liberality, we fortify those heroic men who are there, the emissaries of evil will come up, look, be afraid, and pass away.—False peace will bring certain war. Arms and courage will inevitably secure an unbroken peace.

Once, when England only asserted the right to tax her colonies without representation, the colonies rebelled and went to war. But now a foreign Legislature has been imposed upon Kansas. That Legislature has legalized slavery against the known wishes of nine tenths of the actual settlers. It has passed decreed that no man shall enter the territory who will not take an oath of allegiance to this spurious legislation. It has made a death to give liberty to men escaping from oppression. It has muzzled the press. It has forbidden discussion. It has made free speech a penitentiary offence. The rights for which the old colonists fought were superficial, compared with these. These are rights which lie at the very heart of personal freedom, when free speech, a free press, a free canvass and discussion are penitentiary offences! These are the laws that the President is determined to enforce! Congress is to be asked for money to sustain this government in Kansas; and to pay for an army to put the throats of every free citizen who will not yield to this infamy.

Already the Senate, controlled by the slave interest, arrogantly offers to snatch from the House its immemorial right of originating Appropriation Bills. The pretense is to save money. The reason is to gain money for Kansas butchery. They fear that the House will not appropriate for such a nefarious abomination as that which broods the Plains. The Senate knows that every dollar voted for the army and for Kansas will, in the hands of the Administration, be a bullet in the heart of every free settler. The House ought to know it too, and act accordingly. The whole country ought to know it.

New England has given to the land a President who is determined that Kansas shall have Slavery or Blood. His second proclamation is like the apocalyptic vision. "And the second angel sounded, and as it were, a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea; and the third part of the sea became blood."—So will armed slavery be cast into Kansas. But will not those rivers of blood dash against the Alleghanies, and that fire flash along the line between the North and South.

Peace in Kansas will be peace everywhere.—War there will be war all over the land. Now it can be stopped. But fear will not do it. A truculent peace will not do it. Indolence and presumptuous prayer will but hasten the mischief. When tyrants are in arms they who cry peace become their confederates. Manliness, action, courage, and ample preparations for defence—will stop the danger. The Providence that will help us is that Providence which we help. God works for those who work for him. When He answers prayer for harvests, He inspires men to work; and petitions for crops and harvests are answered through plows and spades. And God answers prayers for peace by inspiring men with justice, with abhorrence of oppression, by making good men bold and active, and bad men feeble and cowardly by stopping the ears of the community to the counsels of cowards and hypocrites.

Let every man in this awful crisis not fail to PRAY. And that they may pray without hypocrisy, let them watch and work! How shall we dare ask God to save us from bloodshed, when we will not use the means which he has put into our hands? Faith, without works, and prayer without works, are dead, stone dead.—Let emigrants go thither by hundreds and pray as they go. Let them that have money now pour it out and pray as they give! Let them that have sons in Kansas send them arms, and pray that they may have no occasion to use them, but if they must be used, that the oppressor may so yield them that the mother may not be ashamed of the son whom she bore! Let ministers and christian freemen now if ever, speak against barbarism, and uphold the whole retinue of christian institutions! Let those whose tongue has been hitherto palsied by evil advisers, now loosen their tongues and speak!

Of whom will the land take counsel? There have been two sorts of counsellors hitherto.—One has pointed out for twenty years the nature of slavery, its tendencies, the dangers which it threatened; and all the prophesies have come true. The other kind of counsellors have predicted peace, dissuaded from action, urged compromise, and at each reluctant step have promised the country peace.

In not a single instance have they been right. Events have overthrown every one of their promises. They have led us down deeper into trouble at every step. We have been betrayed by kisses. Excitements have desperate. Compromises have bred spectatrices. We are spun over with webs. We are tangled with sophistries. We have everything but manliness, straitforwardness, courage, and decisive wisdom. Our capital is not in ruins, and yet the prophecy against the old oriental city has come true;—foxes look out of the windows; owls hoot there, and satyrs dance their orgies there. That infernal dog of a hundred heads—Slavery—sits at the gate of our government to bite every one that will not give a sop to Cerberus. All this we receive at the hands of the very men who are again abroad with a pious horror of self-defence, and treacherous counsels for a more treacherous peace!

But what is done must be done quickly.—Funds must be freely given. Arms must be had, even if bought at the price mentioned by our Saviour: "He that hath no sword let him sell his garment and buy one." (Luke 22: 36.) Young who would do aught for liberty, should take no counsel of fear. Now is the time when a man may do for his country in an hour more than in a whole life besides. Time flies—Events hasten. Fear, and treacherous peace, that betray duty with treacherous words of religion, will ruin all. But energy, courage, action will save all. Woe to us! if war comes from our fault! If it comes, on the skirts will no blood be found!

IMPORTANT TRIAL IN THE CRYSTAL PALACE. The following account of a trial of scales at the American Institute, held in the Crystal Palace in New York, is from the Pennsylvanian. We take pleasure in transferring it to our columns, reflecting as it does, great credit upon a well known and successful New England manufacturing firm. We would add that the scales manufactured by the Messrs. Fairbanks were taken from their usual stock in New York, and since the account of the trial was published have been adjudged the best and a gold medal has been awarded for the larger one and a silver medal for the smaller one.

"We had the pleasure of witnessing, a few days since, an interesting trial of various weighing machines on exhibition at the Fair of the American Institute, in the Crystal Palace. The trial was instituted to the relative merits of the celebrated Platform Scales, the scales manufactured by Burgee & Forsyth, of Rochester, N. Y., and a newly patented scale manufactured at Vergennes, Vt. To test the real merit of the scales, the committee placed upon the platform of a scale having the capacity of six tuns, a weight of 3398 pounds, and then moved the weight to various parts of the platform. With the weight on one corner of the platform Burgee & Forsyth's scale, the beam indicated 3390 pounds, when placed on the opposite corner the beam indicated only 3377 pounds, shewing a difference of 13 pounds, and when removed to the centre of the platform the beam showed 3387 pounds. A request was then made that the weight be again placed on the corner first tried, which was done, and the weight the beam now indicated was 3392 pounds, showing a difference of 5 pounds from the first trial. This variation is attributable in part to the arrangement of the platform upon the bearings, which forbids the possibility of its giving correct weight, or agreeing with itself. The test was then applied to a Fairbanks Scale, and when the weight was placed on one corner of the platform the beam indicated the true weight, 3398 pounds, on the second and third corners the result was the same; on the fourth corner a slight variation was perceptible. So extraordinary a delicate was the operation of Fairbanks' Scale, (capacity six tuns,) that a quarter of a pound weight placed on any part of the platform raised the beam.

A Duryee & Forsyth Scale, of 40,000 lbs. capacity was next tested, and like the Vergennes Scale, it failed to give a correct weight, or to agree with itself, it showed a variation of ten pounds when the weight was removed from one corner to another. One of Fairbanks small Platform Scales was then tested with United States standard weights, and although it had been in constant use for six months, it exhibited unerring accuracy. The sealed weights were then placed on a similar scale manufactured by Dirgee & Forsyth, but the result was far from satisfactory—one corner was half a pound too light, the centre half a pound too heavy and another corner two pounds too heavy."—Boston Daily Journal.

A MISABLE NIGGER. My friend asked Anthony Rox, a superb engine driver on the Ohio, how he came to get free:

"Why, Massa Vincent, my health was very bad when I was in Kentucky. I couldn't do no kind of work; I was very feeble; I was just as much as I could do to hoe my own garden and eat de sass; and the missus dat owned me see that I was a mis'able nigger—one of the most mis'ablest kind. So I see to her, 'Missus, I'm a mis'able nigger, and aint worth nothing, and I 'spects you'd better sell me, I'm such a mis'able nigger.' Now, massa Vincent, I was such a poor nigger that Missus 'greed to sell me for a hundred dollars, and I 'greed to try to work and earn the money to pay her, and I did, and my health has been gittin better ever since, and I 'spects I made about nine hundred dollars dat time out of dat nigger. Yah, yah, Massa Vincent!"

VESUVIUS, ROME AND GEOLOGY. Professor Silliman, in a recent lecture, said that in spite of the fate of Herculaneum and Pompeii, the slopes of Vesuvius are at this time inhabited by 300,000 people, who look not to the phet, but sleep in fancied security upon the lava beds which entombed villages beneath their feet. He said Vesuvius had been raised from the sea, as had also all the region round about Rome. Dormant volcanoes encircle the Eternal City. The soil is composed of volcanic ashes. The ancient Catacombs were cut through these until they reached the mouth of the Tiber, in endless labyrinths. Below this deposit of ashes was a formation containing marine fossil shells, and still deeper, one containing fresh water fossils. The lecturer said the results there found could only have been produced in myriads of ages.

NOT WHO, BUT WHAT.—Lady—And so you are married, eh? Who did you marry?

The Lady in Grey Silk.

The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Sunday Mercury, in referring to the fact that the Hon. James Quiggle, formerly a member of the Pennsylvania Senate from Clinton and Centre counties, had taken up his residence in the Quaker City, relates the following amusing anecdote:

Some years since, on the road from Lancaster to Philadelphia, on a blazing hot summer day, Judge Jim Pollock, (your present governor, Jim Quiggle, (then plain Lawyer Quiggle,) and your correspondent, who knew the former well, but not the latter, were alone in the rear car of the train. Jim Pollock was looking out of the car window, at a place where the train stopped to water, when suddenly he drew his white handkerchief from his pocket, and began vigorously waving it in the air, at the same time bobbing his head out of the window in a very vigorous manner.

"What are you about, Judge?" asked Mr. Q., without rising from his seat.

"Why, don't you see yonder? There's a lady waving a white handkerchief, and I'm returning the salute—some acquaintance I made formerly, I suppose."

Judge P. ceased, but in a few moments he again looked out and resumed the operation with his cambric.

"Who is she, Judge?" asked Mr. Q., as he lounged in one corner of the car, with his mother extremities curled up like a gigantic capital Z.

"Well, the fact is, I don't exactly know; I'm quite near-sighted, and can't recognize her, but she is dressed in grey silk, and stands yonder, under a big maple tree, near my friend John B.'s house."

By-and-by the locomotive gave a snort, and the train began to move. Judge Pollock again darted his cambric to the lady in a final salute, and this time Jim Quiggle thought he would have a peep at her. So he crossed over to the Judge, and poking out his head, took a view, but didn't see the lady. Nevertheless, the Judge kept on waving his handkerchief, the perspiration rolling down his face with the effort.

"Where is she? I don't see anybody," said Mr. Q., after scanning the landscape, without observing any female.

"There!" was the rather petulent reply; don't you see that lady in the grey silk dress, standing under that maple tree, waving a white handkerchief?"

There was a suppressed snorting sound, and Jim Quiggle rolled over on the seat, red in the face, like a boiled lobster, while your correspondent picked him up in a state of virulent paroxysm of laughter, and laid him out upon the seat. After sacrificing all the buttons on his vest and waistbands, he explained to the Judge the occasion of the cachinnatory spasm. The Judge had been exchanging salutes for twenty minutes with an iron-grey mare, whose long white tail, as it flapped away the flies, had been taken by him for a white handkerchief, waved by a lady in a grey silk dress! The Judge didn't swear, but he changed the subject to saw-mills, the only portion of which was intelligible being the frequent repetition of the word "dam."

Cheap & Convenient Building.

Door, Sash and Blind Factory.

A. DUNBAR

HAS been very successful in obtaining several contracts for Door Frames, Sashes, and Blinds, for dwelling-houses and other buildings in this city, the coming season. His excellent workmen on his employ, and his stock, so that he is now able to contract to build best articles of Window Frames, Sashes, and Blinds, of any dimensions and of superior quality. The whole building or for a less quantity of work, and expense of building is very much reduced by having these articles made separate from the structure. Carpenters have only to put them in their places.

This business has now become so extensive, and that only a small margin is left for profit, that before and the cost of a dwelling-house, the work is of a uniform excellent character.

Any one interested can examine the quality of the work at the factory, near the Railroad Depot, or at the store of M. S. Stetson, Esq., Hancock-st., and at other places any article and the exact large quantities ordered.

Mr. Dunbar is also prepared to furnish Window Blinds ready painted, and will have them at the shortest notice.

By long experience, and the strictest attention to business, and perseverance, the subscriber intends to merit a liberal share of the patronage of his former customers, both in quality and price. He has also organized a fine business establishment, and will think of building in the old and new style, will please call and inspect methods.

Bounty Land Warrants BOUGHT AT THE New

TO THE DAILY WHIG AND COURIER.

Congress

W[illegible], 28th.

SENATE. A message was received from the President, communicating official documents on the Brit[illegible]ment cases. 6000 extra copies were ordered.

[illegible] Entertainment Correspondence.

The documents comprise about 500 foolscap pages. The first letter on the subject from Mr Marcy to Mr Buchanan, is of June 9, 1855, and says the President will be much pleased to learn that the British government had not directed the enlistments, but on the contrary had condemned the conduct of her officers thus engaged, called them to an account and taken immediate measures to put a stop to the proceedings. Mr Buchanan communicated these views of the President to Lord Clarendon on the 13th of July.

A letter from Marcy to Buchanan of July 15th, says something more than a disavowal is looked for from the British Government, that the latter must not only retrace her steps, but that the President expects Great Britain to take effective measures to discharge from its military service such individuals as were enlisted within the U. States, or who left the country under contracts made here to enter as soldiers of the British army. A letter from Buchanan to Marcy, July 18th, reports Lord Clarendon as saying that any infringement of the laws of the United States was entirely contrary to the positive instructions of the British Government; and that as that Government had determined that all proceedings for further enlistments should terminate, Lord Clarendon thought our Government had no just cause of complaint, and that the enlistments were to cease. Lord Clarendon assured Mr. Buchanan that instructions to that effect had already been sent to this country before he (Clarendon) received Buchanan's note. Clarendon to Buchanan, Sept. 27th, complains of the United States violating their neutrality, saying that arms and military stores in large quantities were sent from there to Russia, and that plots had been openly avowed and compromises entered into to cause an insurrection in her Majesty's dominions.

Marcy sends to Buchanan, Oct. 1st, a report of the trial of Hertz, saying, "The disclosures made thereby leave no doubt of the facts of the case."

Buchanan to Marcy, Oct. 30, says, "The enlistment case presents a serious aspect," and remarks that the plots referred to by Lord C. mean the movements of the Irish Emigration Society of Boston, the members of which must be astonished at the importance their schemes has elicited from the British Government and press.

Buchanan, in a note to which no date is given, assures Marcy that he did not entertain the most remote idea that the enlistment question had not been satisfactorily adjusted, until he learned the complicity of Mr. Crampton in the affair.

Marcy to Buchanan, Oct. 13th, says the President demands redress.

Lord Clarendon to Mr Crampton, Nov 15, says her Majesty did not doubt the frank expression of regret for any violation of U. S. laws which, contrary to instructions, might have taken place, and her determination to remove all causes for further complaint by putting an end to all proceedings for enlistment, ought satisfactorily and honorably to terminate the difference between the two governments. The information possessed by her Majesty was imperfect, and no direct charges should be made. No offence in the U. S. was offered or contemplated. The relations of friendship should be maintained uninterrupted.

Marcy, Dec 28th, sends Buchanan a very long letter, recapitulating the occurrences respecting enlistments, saying that Crampton's connection with the affair has rendered him an unacceptable representative of Her Majesty's government near this government, and "you are directed by the President to ask Her Britannic Majesty's government to recall him." The instructions were similar with regard to Messrs Rowcroft, Barclay and Mathews, Consuls at Cincinnati, New York and Philadelphia.

Mr. Buchanan to Mr. Marcy, Feb. 1st, 1856, says he had an interview with Lord Clarendon, and informed his Lordship that he had come for the purpose of reading to him Mr. Marcy's despatches of Dec. 28th, in reply to the despatches of his Lordship to Mr. Crampton of the 26th Nov., as he desired to correct an error, or rather an omission in his (Clarendon's) report of a remark made by Buchanan. Buchanan then proceeded to explain to Clarendon his ignorance of Crampton's complicity in the recruiting business until the month of Sept. last, and impressed upon him the importance of bearing that fact in mind, in connection with all that he had said and done in the premises.

On motion of Mr Mason, the resolution was adopted requesting the President to inform the Senate whether an offer was made by Great Britain to this government, to arbitrate, by means of some friendly power, the difficulties regarding the construction of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, and to transmit any correspondence attending the proposed arbitration.

Mr. Mason remarked that on a former occasion he stated that it was his impression no such offer had been made, but probably some suggestion of such a character had been thrown out incidentally or unofficially to our minister. The British Government, through its official organ, has announced that such an offer had been made, but not having been accepted, will be renewed. It was therefore important that the true state of the case should be made known.

Mr. Hale denied the truth of the statement of Mr. Toucey, that it was impossible for the President to take another course than he had regarding Kansas affairs, without the utter abandonment of his constitutional duty. Mr. Hale insisted that the President had been derelict in his duty, in not protecting the bona fide settlers of Kansas in the exercise of their rights. The condition of things there were such as to justify and demand the President's interference.

He proceeded to show, by reading quotations from the speeches of Senators, that those who voted for the Kansas Nebraska bill, passed it on the ground that it was a great measure of freedom, and stated that the President's conversation with Jere. Clemens declared a similar sentiment. When resistance was made at Boston to the return of a fugitive slave, the President telegraphed to the federal officers to incur any expense necessary to execute the law, but when white men of Kansas were resisted in the exercise of their constitutional rights, we were told that the President had no authority to interfere.

Was not the freedom of suffrage as important as the ownership of a slave? He showed that the democracy of New Hampshire of 1847, 48 and 49 declared themselves unalterably opposed to the extension of slavery.

Mr Toombs expressed his concurrence in the policy of the President relative to Kansas, and believed him entitled to the support of every friend of order in the country. He defended the Executive earnestly.

HOUSE.—Many bills were introduced and referred, and a number of resolutions adopted, including one introduced by Mr. Florence, instructing Committee on Naval affairs to inquire into the efficacy of making immediate provision for the [illegible] of 10 sloops or other vessels of war. STEAMERS.

California Steamers,
Carrying the United States Mail.

5th and 20th of each Month.

Reduced Prices 100 lbs. Baggage Free.

Through Tickets, including transit of the Isthmus, one Dollar.

By order of the Postmaster General the United States Mail Steamers will hereafter be despatched from New York direct to Aspinwall, on the 5th and 20th of each month.

Passengers are landed at the Railroad Depot, Aspinwall and exchanged across to the Pacific Steamers without any extra expense. This is the only line going entire Through Tickets, including meals, on the Isthmus.

Transit made in four hours, entirely by daylight, thus avoiding the great exposure by night in open boats to fever and ague and the 300 miles of dangerous lake and river navigation over rocks and shoals.

Arrangements have now been completed so that the regular U S Pacific Mail Steamer will leave Panama for San Francisco immediately on arrival of the Atlantic Mails and passengers thus securing passengers by the Mail Line a sure and short passage without any detention on the Isthmus.

Tickets must be signed by one of the Company's Agents before they will be recognized by the Agent at Panama, and Tickets thus signed can be obtained of the only authorized Agent for the Atlantic and Pacific Mail Steamship Companies, in this city C L BARTLETT Agent,

Dr C M JACKSON Philad'a Pa.
WILL EFFECTUALLY CURE
Liver Complaint Dyspepsia, Jaundice,

Chronic or Nervous Debility Diseases of the Kidneys, and all diseases arising from a disordered Liver or Stomach,

Such as Constipation Inward
Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach Nausea Heartburn Disgust for food,
Fullness or weight in the Stomach,
Sour Eructations Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach Swimming of the Head Hurried and Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision Dots or Webs before the Sight, Fever and Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, &c

Sudden Flushes of Heat Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil and great Depression of Spirits

The proprietor in calling the attention of the public to this preparation does so with a feeling of the utmost confidence in its virtues and adaptation to the diseases for which it is recommended.

It is no new and untried article but one that has stood the test of a long series of years before the American people, and its reputation and sale is extensively and universally established. The following similar preparations extant The testimony and evidence given by the most prominent and well known Physicians and individuals, in all parts of the country is immense. The following from our own States is respectfully submitted, as deserving any and will doubtless to my Stenographic readers. A Practical Receipt Book for Farmers and Families to be had gratis of all the Agents for the German Bitters

Principal office and manufactory, 120 Arch st, Philadelphia, Pa

TESTIMONY FROM MAINE

Capt Daniel Abbott rookfield, Maine July 16, 1853 says I was taken sick one year ago last April, upon my passage from Havana to Charleston, S C At the latter place I took medicine and procured a physician but for ten days could obtain no relief, no sleep or appetite At last taking up a newspaper having your advertisement of Hoofland's German Bitters in it, I sent for some immediately This was late at night 10 o'clock, at 11 o clock I took the first dose and another at 8 o clock I took the effect was so rapid on me that I had a good appetite for supper, and rested well that night, and the next day found me a well man—I have not been without your medicine since, having been sailing between Baltimore, Charleston and the West Indies ever since. I have many men up and down the coast, and reside in this place where you should have an agency, as you could sell large quantities of it

Jos B Hall & Co Presque Isle, Aroostook Co Maine, April 24, 1854, say We therewith send you one certificate of a cure performed by the use of only one bottle of the German Bitters We think it but right to be a man of veracity and have no doubt of the truth of his story

Messrs Jos B Hall & Co—Gentlemen—In answer to your inquiries I will state that my daughter, aged about 16 years has been complaining of a pain in her side for six or seven years and about a pain in her back which was taken down and confined her to bed. The pain in her side was very severe being troubled with pains between her shoulders, and a great part of the time could not raise a number of times. Having seen your advertisement of Hoofland's German Bitters, I was induced to try them. I sent and procured one bottle and she had taken it but a few days when she began to improve, and now after taking only one bottle she is enjoying better health than she has for years—she feels no pain in her side or in any part of her body, and attributes her cure entirely to the German Bitters

WILLIAM GILMAN

Baltimore Brookhaven Co Pa

You should bear in mind that these Bitters are entirely vegetable thereby possessing advantages over most of the preparations recommended for similar diseases

For sale by respectable dealers and store keepers generally—and by J S Ingraham, Bangor, W S Morrell, Dexter S B Fiske, Lincoln.

HELMBOLD'S
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED
Compound Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla,
—FOR—
Purifying the Blood, removing all diseases arising from Excess of Mercury, exposure and improper use of life, chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Salt Rheum Scald head, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Pains and Swellings of the Bones Tetter, Pimples on the Face, and all scaly Eruptions of the Skin

It is gratifying to the proprietor of these medicines to be able to state that it is now nearly three years since they were first introduced, during which time they have been extensively used throughout the United States, and have given perfect satisfaction in the most obstinate cases in which they have been employed whether in town country, hospital, or private practice, they have invariably given the most unbounded and unequivocal satisfaction, and produced the most salutary and permanent effects Innumerable certificates have been received from the most distinguished physicians in the country, and from the professors of several medical colleges, recommending in the highest terms the value of these medicines and their superiority over all other preparations for such complaints as those for which they are recommended Numerous pamphlets containing Helmbold's Buchu and various modes of preparing them have been given, all of which of course will differ according to the mode of preparation which each individual may adopt

These medicines require considerable care in the preparation and the employment of different menstrua, a successive operation is kept up for the last twenty years, and in consequence are most frequently improperly made and not unfrequently much impaired, if not rendered totally inert by the unskilful and unskilful management of those unacquainted with pharmaceutical preparations Hence, therefore, of the highest consideration and importance to the Public and to the faculty that those who would be assured of the standard and genuine preparations of Helmbold's Buchu and possessing the most advantages To effect this, and obviate the evil alluded to I have made a number of experiments to ascertain the most effectual mode of extracting the virtues of the Sarsaparilla and the Buchu and to dissolve over the thick gelatinous form for their exhibition The experiments have resulted to my entire satisfaction in such a manner as to produce a standard preparation of each, which I am now offering to the public in the form of my Compound Fluid Extracts which contain all the virtues of the articles they are represented to be made from in a highly concentrated form and are the most active preparations which can be made Two tablespoonfuls of the Extract Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to a quart of the Liquid Sarsaparilla and one bottle of the Extract is equal in strength one gallon of Syrup Sarsaparilla or decoction, as usually made.
